Raw materials for animal feed from Worlée – A long tradition of quality

For more than 165 years Worlée has delivered raw materials from all over the world to its customers. The Hanseatic trading company has grown into an international production and service company with three units: Chemical Raw Materials, Natural Raw Materials and Cosmetic Raw Materials. The combination of a high quality approach, technical know-how and the intuition for trends and market developments is the reason why Worlée is a reliable partner – in all three divisions.

Natural Raw Materials from Worlée

As a supplier of an extensive extensive range of raw materials including herbs, vegetables, fruits and spices, as a leading producer and refiner for the food industry, Worlée NaturProdukte GmbH offers first-rate dehydrated products from all over the world.

In order to ensure the delivery of top quality raw materials, Worlée relies heavily upon exclusive cooperative agreements with producers in countries of origin. In addition to conventional products Worlée NaturProdukte offers organic and fair traded products.

For over fifteen years, Worlée has been particularly active with its specialized team in the market for pet feed. Thanks to many years of experience in the food industry and innovative ideas, Worlée was able to establish itself in this sector and present its constantly growing range of products at numerous European trade exhibitions.

As a member of the German Animal Feed Association (DVT), Worlée is continually involved with the latest developments and issues in the pet food industry.

Quality
